INTRODUCTION

THIS DIRECTORY provides the names and some items of basic information for the local public elementary and secondary school systems operating schools in the United States (the 50 States and the District of Columbia) and its outlying areas (American Samoa, the Canal Zone, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands). The information was provided by the research and statistics staff in each State education agency. Their cooperation is very much appreciated.

The main body of the directory lists, in alphabetical order by State, the operating local public school systems with 300 pupils or more, with the following information shown for each unit:

Name of unit
Superintendent's location
ZIP Code
County name
Grade span
Enrollment

Also included are:

- a. Summary tables showing the number of operating local public school systems and their distribution by size, grade span, and State.
- b. A listing of the names of the superintendents of the operating local public school systems with 10,000 pupils or more.

This directory lists all types of basic administrative units operating public schools, including common, city, independent, consolidated, separate elementary or high school, union, community, town, township, jointure, county-unit school districts, and vocational and technical high schools operated by their own governing boards.

The following types of public school administrative units are not included:

- a. Nonoperating school systems.

These systems are defined as those which exist as legal entities and may levy taxes or contract for school services but which were not themselves operating schools in Fall 1968.

- b. Intermediate school districts.

These units are those serving as intermediates between the local school system and the State education agency, e.g., the county intermediate units prevalent in the Midwestern, Southwestern, and Western States, the supervisory unions in New England, and the supervisory districts of New York State.

- c. Separate junior college districts.
- d. State-operated schools.
- e. Federally operated schools.
- f. Elementary and secondary schools operated by colleges and universities.

In prior years the data for the directory were collected in the fall and usually published in the spring of the following calendar year. In order to make the directory available for a greater part of the school year, the data this year were, and in future years will be, collected in the summer and published in late fall or early winter. Because the information was requested before the opening of schools, the opening fall enrollment (or membership) figures previously requested as the "enrollment" measures could not be collected. Instead, States were asked to provide the average daily membership (ADM) figures for the preceding school year, 1967-68. Nineteen States did not report on the basis of ADM. These States and the pupil data which they reported are as follows:

State	Figure reported in enrollment column
Alabama	1966-67 enrollment
California	Fall 1967 enrollment
Connecticut	Fall 1967 enrollment
Georgia	1967-68 Average Daily Attendance (ADA)
Idaho	1967-68 ADA
Illinois	Fall 1967 enrollment
Kansas	1967-68 ADA
Minnesota	1967-68 enrollment
Missouri	1967-68 enrollment
Nebraska	1967-68 enrollment
New Jersey	Fall 1967 enrollment
Nevada	1967-68 ADA
New York	Fall 1967 enrollment
North Dakota	1967-68 enrollment
Oklahoma	1967-68 enrollment
Pennsylvania	1967-68 enrollment
Texas	1967-68 ADA
Virginia	1967-68 ADA
Washington	Fall 1967 enrollment

Enrollment is a cumulative count of the total number of different pupils registered at any time during the school year. Fall enrollment refers to the number of pupils on the rolls on a given date (usually October 1) in the fall, whereas year-end enrollment (in this case 1967-68 enrollment) represents the total number registered during the school year.

Average daily membership (ADM) is the aggregate days membership divided by the number of days school was actually in session. Unlike enrollment, the membership figure excludes pupils who have officially withdrawn or transferred from school, and is therefore usually considered a more accurate measure of the number of pupils "belonging" to a school or a system. Beginning this year, ADM is considered in this directory to be the standard measure of the number of pupils belonging to a particular school system. Average daily attendance (ADA) for a school year is the aggregate days attendance divided by the number of days school was actually in session.

No adjustments for the differential pupil measures were made in the listings or in the summary tables. So that the reader may better understand the extent to which the other pupil measures differ from ADM, guides for comparison based on the most recent complete data (1965-66) for the United States are given below:

- a. ADA is approximately 94.3 percent of ADM.
- b. Year-end enrollment is approximately 103.2 percent of ADM.
- c. Fall enrollment is approximately 101.6 percent of ADM.

The change in pupil-accounting measures from the opening fall enrollment to the previous year's ADM precludes any trend comparisons on the number of districts by size between the data in the 1967-68 directory and the data included here. In future years, as reporting under the new schedule is stabilized, analyses of this type will again be feasible.

The following form of address is suggested for writing to the head of a local school system:

Superintendent of Public Schools
Name of school system
City or town, State ZIP Code

Mail addressed in this manner, even without a street address, should reach its destination without difficulty.
